A message to our Principal & Assistant Principal...

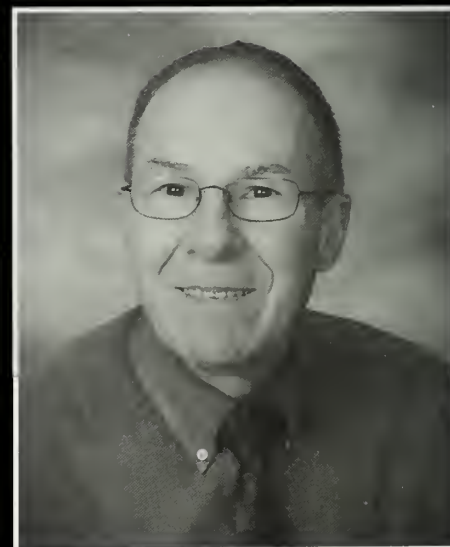

Dear Mr. Bernard and Mr. Pesce,

The class of 2006 would like to extend our thanks for making the years at North Reading High School unforgettable. We greatly appreciate your time and effort in all the aspects of our school life. From helping us acclimate our freshmen year, to preparing us for what lies ahead, you both were always outstanding mentors for the community. You have shown us truly positive leadership by forming strong relationships with students and faculty. We are grateful that North Reading High School is a nurturing and safe place to learn. This welcoming environment has become the hallmark of education in North Reading. The ability to touch a student's life is a gift and we have all been so lucky to receive it. Thank you for building a setting where faculty and students can work toward a common goal. We realize that we now have the skills and aptitude necessary for a successful and rewarding future.

In Gratitude and Respect,
The Class of 2006

Mr. Robert Pesce

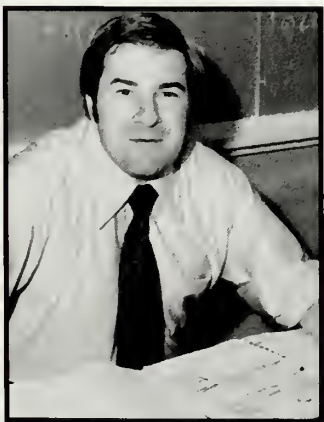

1974

1979

Mr. Pesce began his career at North Reading High School in September, 1972, as a mathematics teacher. After starting off in math, he taught the first computer programming classes at the high school. In 1987, he became vice-principal: a position he has mastered over the past 19 years. His time at North Reading has been a quick 34 years. Mr. Pesce felt that as vice-principal, he would be able to reach more students on a larger scale and become involved in many different facets of school.

Mr. Pesce grew up in Saugus, Massachusetts and attended Saugus High School. After high school he continued his education at Boston University and graduated Magna Cum Laude. He then received his Masters in Curriculum and Instruction from Northeastern University. While teaching at North Reading High School he completed administrative courses and became certified as a vice-principal.

Mr. Pesce's wife, Janet, is an RN and a Home Health Aid Scheduling Manager. He has three children: Carrie, Robert, and Christopher. Mr. Pesce is also a proud grandfather of two, Isabelle and Jacob. In retirement, he plans to spend more time with his family, exercise, travel, and do some of his favorite hobbies such as reading and cooking.

Mr. Pesce has enjoyed his important work as vice-principal in support of Mr. Bernard. He enjoys seeing students learn and mature and become productive citizens. He is appreciative of students who express gratitude for the school's role in helping them achieve their full potential. Mr. Pesce will miss the faculty he has been working with for many years. Our vice-principal will be missed for his affable nature, his willingness to listen, his patience, and his belief in the potential of every student. We will miss you a great deal, Mr. Pesce, and we hope you have a well-deserved and rewarding retirement.

Dr. Mary Anne Saul

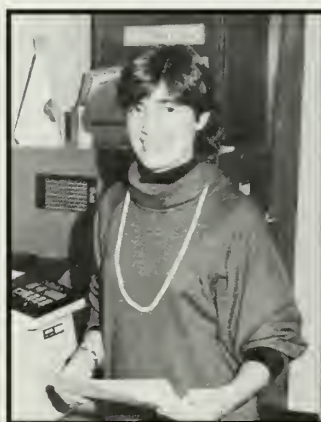

Dr. Saul graduated from Plymouth High School in New Hampshire. She attended Tufts for her Bachelor's degree and Boston University for her Ed.D. She has worked at North Reading High School for 33 years! Prior to her time as an educator at North Reading, "Scoop" Saul was a reporter for the Chelsea Record, and wrote for Mademoiselle Magazine.

Dr. Saul has always taught history and government courses at NRHS, but also showed her wide-ranging acumen, by instructing anthropology, sociology, and World Cultures and Religions courses. She also taught in the Critical and Creative Thinking programs at U. Mass. - Boston. Throughout the years, many of Dr. Saul's students have returned to work at NRHS. Some of them include Miss Forrest; Ms. Pierce; Mr. Bisognano; Miss Brophy; and Mr. MacIntosh. She will miss the faculty the most when she retires from North Reading High School. A truly memorable experience for Dr. Saul was her meeting with Archbishop Desmond Tutu. In 1995, as advisor of the NRHS Alliance Against Racism and Violence, Dr. Saul helped to collect over 70 cartons of books that were shipped to rural students in South Africa.

Dr. Saul, we will think fondly of your time here at North Reading; you taught us with an excitement for the subject, a willingness to listen to us, and a great sense of humor and dedication. Enjoy your retirement---you deserve it!

Ms. Marano has been teaching in the North Reading School System for 37 years. Her love for the arts began in the 6th grade, when she took the stage as Gretel in Hansel and Gretel. Since then, she has directed and choreographed a myriad of performances during her career, ranging from drama to comedy, and, of course, the beloved spring musical. The countless hours spent after school producing the plays are a testament to her tireless effort and dedication to the school. Aside from drama, Ms. Marano is also the conductor of the chorus. In fact, one of her most memorable moments was the chorus's performance of Randall Thompson's, "Alleluia" at the 2004 Spring Concert. It was perfectly sung, which made the performance the most moving and emotional piece she had ever listened to. "It's a once-in-a-lifetime experience for a musician," she said, "which is an incredible feat for a high school group." Her favorite pieces have been "Rumors," "Shadow Box," and "42nd Street." Her students' growth, both musically and dramatically, has been the most rewarding part of her job.

Upon retiring, Ms. Marano has a running list of projects to fill her schedule. She plans on working at her local high school helping out with the performances, doing needlepoint, reading, and, most of all, traveling. She hopes to tour Paris and Italy, and teach English as a Second Language in China. She is also looking forward to sleeping in, reading the paper, and taking courses in English Literature at Salem State.

Thank you Ms. Marano for your supreme effort in our school's dramatic and choral endeavors throughout the years: we could never reach those high notes without your guidance and determination. It is hard to put a price on all of your selfless hours that you spent with us after school, before and after performances, setting up and closing down shows, but we shall remember them dearly because of your care for us. Enjoy your retirement; we will save a seat for you at next year's spring musical!

"You take the good, you take the bad, you take the both and then you have, the facts of life" This is a quote I find all too exact in representing high school. We have all had highs, sports, plays, friendships, and lows of grades and break-ups. Whether we thought it was fun or, all too real is justified by each person, but soon the drama and excitement as we know it goes, That's fact.

Here, on the most important pages of the book, is the staff that created this superb edition and brought you the 2006 NRHS yearbook. We have saved the best club for last, because without them the yearbook and all its glory would not be in your hands right now. They put in long hours; they clicked a lot of mice; they created a lot of pages and pictures; they ate a lot of Jolly Ranchers (Samantha); and, they ignored the offerings of dried fruit. (Well, the advisor ate the dried fruit, while the staff watched in horror.) The NRHS Yearbook Staff worked diligently to create, edit, and sell this 2006 masterpiece. Our experienced staff used their skills and wit to laugh their way through many a late Tuesday night. This year, no one on the staff burst into tears, thanks to our advisor, Mr. Putnam. His blank, confused stare could challenge any frozen computer screen (not responding). And kudos must go out to our wily yearbook representative, Mr. Jostens. He once again was tireless in his efforts and the yearbook would not look half as good without his computer acumen and his creative approach to the book's style. But without Ashley, Clare, Christa, Meghan, Rachel, Tara, Victoria, Carey, Alyssa, Kayla, Brittany, Natalie, Sam, Tabitha and Amanda, the memories of your years and your friends at North Reading would be just that, memories. With this yearbook, you will be able to relive those fun times, those 78 minute long classes and those interesting friends and faculty that made your high school years the best around.

"Leaders aren't born they are made. And they are made just like anything else, through hard work. And that's the price we'll have to pay to achieve that goal, or any goal." - Vince Lombardi

David,
You have worked so hard to make yourself into a young man we are very proud of. You have achieved so many goals in eighteen short years. Take the time to be proud and enjoy what you have accomplished, but continue to work with effort and determination and you will realize your dreams. We love you very much,
Mom and Dad

Dave Pawlowski

Dave,
Dan and I look up to you so much. You are our brother, our mentor, and our friend. Never stop being who you are and continue to be the best person that you can possibly be. Good luck in college!

To Jeremy,

"What is Success?"

*To laugh often and much;
To win the respect of intelligent people
and the affection of children;
To earn the appreciation of honest critics
and endure the betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty;
To find the best in others;
To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;
To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived;
This is to have succeeded."*

Kevin Distaso

Kevin, Congratulations on your graduation. Continue on your new journey with the vision to see, the faith to believe, and the will to do, for it will take you anywhere. Dream anything you want to dream- this is the beauty of the human mind. Do anything you want to do- this is the strength of the human will. Trust yourself to test your limits- this is the courage to succeed. Be happy and enjoy the little things for one day you may look back and realize they were big things. We are proud of you and your accomplishments.

We know you will make this world a better place simply by being a part of it.

You stole our hearts when you smiled and said "YES."

With no directions we learned together and you have grown into an amazing young man (John 14:15-31). Please remember the door is always open but sometimes you might need to knock. Your future is always dependent on your next decision (James 1:5); choose wisely son (Proverbs 8).

You have the ability to realize your dreams (Jeremiah 29:11-14) and we support you 150%. College will fly by just like high school. "Life's a beach" so go, enjoy your summer vacation, and remember (Matthew 28:20).

David,

We are so proud of all your accomplishments and even more proud of your courage and determination in achieving your goals. It's admirable that you keep raising your standards and keep striving until you meet them.

You have such a strong sense of who you are and what you want from life that there's no doubt you'll continue to make wise decisions as you pursue your passion for film, music and theatre. This is such an exciting time in your life. Make the most of it and enjoy it to the fullest. Just remember to "fill the reservoir".

Since you were born, we have tried to give you roots and wings. The roots are our unconditional love, values, support, and trust to nourish and sustain you. The wings are freedom, strength, and confidence to embrace life's challenges and opportunities. Hopefully you'll take these things with you and they'll continue to serve you well as you become more and more independent.

Your future is full of hope and possibilities. May you find what makes you happy and fulfilled, and may you always love life as much as you do today.

WILMA

October 24, 2005

Hurricanes ravage the Gulf Coast region in the fall of 2005, posing an unprecedented test of the United States federal emergency response efforts. Hundreds of lives are lost and thousands are left homeless in the wake of Category 4 Hurricane Katrina, followed by Rita and Wilma. The tragedy spurs contributions of money, talents, homes, food and more in an attempt to raise spirits and rebuild the area.

August

- 25 Hurricane Katrina strikes Florida.
- 28 Mandatory evacuation of both New Orleans and Mississippi is ordered as Katrina becomes a Category 5 storm in the Gulf of Mexico.
- 29 Downgraded to a Category 4 storm, Katrina hits land. 1.3 million homes and businesses lose electricity in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. 30 levees are breeched, flooding New Orleans and leaving 100,000 people stranded. After slow government response, civil unrest and looting begins.
- 31 President Bush surveys the damage.

September

- 1 30,000 National Guard troops are deployed. Gas prices spike to as high as $5 per gallon.
- 2 President Bush visits Louisiana and signs a $10.5 billion relief bill. Nearly 154,000 evacuees arrive in Texas.
- 4 The New Orleans Superdome is evacuated.
- 6 President Bush and Congress pledge to investigate the flawed disaster response.
- 9 Government-issued debit cards are distributed to evacuees. The program fails and is ended days later.
- 12 Michael Brown, head of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, resigns. Flooding is down to 50 percent in New Orleans.
- 14 New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin announces a phased repopulation plan.
- 15 New Orleans begins to reopen. Katrina is named the most destructive hurricane in U.S. history.
- 20 Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco declares a state of emergency as Hurricane Rita strengthens off the coast.
- 22 Rita hits the Louisiana coast and heads for Texas.
- 23 Thousands evacuate eastern Texas and the 9th Ward of New Orleans floods once again after levees are overrun.

October

- 24 Hurricane Wilma hits southwest Florida.
